

Property Risk Appetite Statement

Document No. UW-PR-022 | Effective January 1, 2026

Property coverage appetite favors buildings of masonry or fire-resistive construction under 50 years old, with updated electrical and plumbing systems.

Risks located in FEMA-designated flood zones A or V require separate flood coverage and are not eligible for standard property limits above $2,000,000 without flood mitigation documentation on file.

Cold storage and refrigeration risks, particularly ammonia-based systems, require an equipment breakdown endorsement. Roofs older than 20 years require a current roof condition report before binding.

Vacant buildings and buildings mid-renovation are outside appetite unless written through a specialty program.
